The cost components

Component	What it covers	When you decide
Free appointment and plan	Review of your finances and a personalised 12-month budget	Before joining; no obligation to take the ongoing service
Establishment fee	Work to set up the agreed managed service	Shown in your proposed budget before you join
Weekly administration fee	Continuing budget management, payment administration, team support and access to proprietary technology (including MyBudget Client App and Portal)	Shown in your proposed budget before you join

Your first budgeting appointment, financial analysis and personalised twelve-month plan are free. If you join, we show the tailored establishment fee and weekly administration fee in your budget before you decide. The establishment fee is normally spread over six months; in special circumstances this can be extended to twelve months. The weekly fee covers ongoing management, expert support, budget updates and access to our proprietary technology, app and client portal.

What ongoing management means

We can receive income, organise scheduled payments and living-money transfers, allocate savings and help update the budget as your circumstances change. Creditor support can include seeking repayment arrangements and incorporating agreed payments into the plan. See the features and benefits table.

The fee is payment for work performed. Savings on interest, fewer late fees or time spent on administration depend on your circumstances and cannot be promised to exceed the service cost.

Questions to ask about your quote

- What is the establishment fee and how is it paid?
- What is the weekly fee and what work does it cover?
- Are there any additional charges relevant to this plan?
- How will fees affect living expenses, debt repayments and savings?
- What would remain payable if I cancelled, and how would payments and funds be handed back?

Yes. There are no long-term lock-in contracts or exit fees. To close your budget, give us 28 days' written notice. Regular administration fees apply during that period, and any unpaid establishment fee remains payable. We'll help you organise the return of remaining funds and explain how to take over upcoming bills and repayments.

If you are unsure the service is affordable

Use the free appointment to examine the proposed budget before committing. If paid management is not suitable, consider free tools, direct hardship requests and independent support.

We assess your circumstances and show how the service and its fees fit into your budget at the free appointment. We do not sign you up if the service is not affordable. If another form of help would suit you better, we can direct you to appropriate free financial counselling. You do not need to decide on an income threshold or speak to a counsellor before contacting us.

Frequently asked questions

Is MyBudget free?

The first appointment and personalised 12-month plan are free. Ongoing management has establishment and weekly administration fees if you join.

Is there one standard weekly price?

No. The current official cost explanation says fees depend on your situation and required support. Request a written quote rather than relying on an old indicative range.

How is the establishment fee paid?

We normally spread the establishment fee over six months. In special circumstances, this can be extended to twelve months. Your quote and service terms set out your actual obligations.

Does the fee always pay for itself?

No. Compare the practical support with the cost in your own situation. Financial or time savings are not guaranteed.

Can I cancel?

Yes. There are no long-term lock-in contracts or exit fees. To close your budget, give us 28 days' written notice. Regular administration fees apply during that period, and any unpaid establishment fee remains payable. We'll help you organise the return of remaining funds and explain how to take over upcoming bills and repayments.
