Common questions this guide answers

1. What can MyBudget help me achieve as a single parent? → Clients have built homes, advanced careers through study, eliminated financial worry, and created long-term stability for their children.
2. What happens at the first MyBudget appointment? → Start with a free initial conversation about your circumstances. A separate free, no-obligation personal budgeting appointment helps you create a personalised 12-month budget and understand the optional ongoing paid service. Confirm the time to allow when booking. If you join, our team provides ongoing budgeting support.
3. Can I rejoin MyBudget if I have left before? → Yes. Clients who leave and return are welcomed back without judgement at any stage.

Where she started

In 2009, Caroline was going through a divorce and adjusting to life as a single parent. She was managing week to week, with no personal budget plan and no clear picture of what came next. The stress was constant. So was the uncertainty.

Then she saw a MyBudget Pty Ltd television advertisement. She made the call. That one decision changed everything.

The first appointment

Her Money Coach walked her through her situation step by step. Together they built a personal budget plan around her income, her three children, and her goals. We spoke with her creditors on her behalf, and Caroline got something she hadn't had in a long time: a clear next step and the reassurance that she was not alone.

She describes that first conversation as the moment her financial life turned around. And it really did.

The one time she left, and why she came back

After five successful years with us, Caroline moved overseas. Confident in what she had learned, she thought she could manage things independently.

She could not.

When she returned to Australia, she rejoined us with more determination than before, and this time with bigger goals in sight. There is no judgement here. Life takes unexpected turns, and we are there when you are ready to take that next step.

"Without their amazing customer service representatives, achieving these milestones would not have been possible."

What she has achieved

Over her decade with us, Caroline has built her dream home, advanced her career through further study, eliminated day-to-day financial worry, and built a stable, secure home for her three children.

These are not small things. They are the kinds of outcomes that come from structured support, a clear plan, and a team that genuinely cares about where you end up.

What's next

Caroline is not slowing down. Her next goals include landscaping her yard, buying a new car, family holidays, and building a property portfolio to give her children long-term security.

When you know exactly where your money is going, the future stops feeling out of reach. Caroline knows this now. You can too.

In her own words

"Reaching out to MyBudget was the best decision I've ever made."

"I have confidence and no more financial worry. Everything is achievable with MyBudget."

"If I want something, I know I can achieve it with MyBudget."

"They stepped me through a process, reassured me, and delivered exactly what they promised."

"If I had to describe MyBudget, it's just amazing. Life-changing. I have to pinch myself every day."

Caroline's words are her own. We share them because they reflect what we hear again and again from the people we work with. More than 130,000 Australians have trusted us to help them live life free from money worries. Caroline is one of them. You could be too.

If you are where Caroline was

If you are single-parenting, rebuilding after separation, or stretching a single income week to week, Caroline started right there. You do not need to have it all figured out before you reach out. You just need to take that first step. The team can explain the next steps with you.

There is no shame in asking for help. There is only the decision to start.
