If bills, debt or everyday money management feel overwhelming, you do not need to have everything figured out before contacting us. A free appointment can help you see your options and whether a personalised budget and ongoing practical support suit your circumstances.

Book a free, no-obligation appointment. We will analyse your finances, explore your options and build a personalised budget and money strategy that is yours to keep. No pressure and no judgement—just a clear starting point for your next step.

Start with the help you need

Your question	What to consider
Can I keep up with bills and repayments?	Review income, essential costs and debt obligations; ask what arrangements may be possible
Can someone run the budget for me?	We can administer agreed payments and allocations if you join
Do I mainly need independent advice or dispute advocacy?	Free financial counselling may meet that need and can continue alongside other services
Do I already manage a simple budget successfully?	Consider whether paid administration adds enough value for you
Do I need legal or financial-product advice?	Identify the appropriately qualified professional and their scope
Are formal debt options relevant?	Review consequences, eligibility and the specific provider before committing

Assess affordability using your own numbers

It starts with a free initial chat so we can understand what you need. At your free, no-obligation budgeting appointment, usually around two hours, we analyse your income, living costs, bills, debts and goals. We explore practical options and build a personalised twelve-month budget and money strategy. The plan is yours to keep, whether you manage it yourself or choose our ongoing service.

We assess your circumstances and show how the service and its fees fit into your budget at the free appointment. We do not sign you up if the service is not affordable. If another form of help would suit you better, we can direct you to appropriate free financial counselling. You do not need to decide on an income threshold or speak to a counsellor before contacting us.

What you receive if you join

Fees and service boundaries

Your first budgeting appointment, financial analysis and personalised twelve-month plan are free. If you join, we show the tailored establishment fee and weekly administration fee in your budget before you decide. The establishment fee is normally spread over six months; in special circumstances this can be extended to twelve months. The weekly fee covers ongoing management, expert support, budget updates and access to our proprietary technology, app and client portal.

We agree on a realistic plan with you and keep it up to date. Your income, commitments and the terms agreed with creditors shape what the plan can achieve.

Frequently asked questions

Is the first appointment free?

Yes. Your appointment includes financial analysis and a personalised twelve-month budget and money strategy. It is free, yours to keep and comes with no obligation to join our ongoing managed service.

Do I have to speak to a financial counsellor first?

No. Contact us directly for a free appointment. We assess your financial position and help you understand a practical next step, including other support if it would suit you better.

Can MyBudget negotiate with creditors?

With your authority, we can contact creditors and help seek manageable payment arrangements on your behalf. Any new terms or concessions depend on each creditor’s approval and cannot be guaranteed.

Will I always speak to the same person?

You have a primary contact during onboarding. Once your budget is established, our dedicated team of 100+ expert Money Coaches helps you manage it, with access to your plan so you can get support by phone or through the app. Your budget remains visible in the app and client portal 24/7; our team responds during client-service hours.
